WHAT HAPPENS NEXT

After receiving the initial referral either privately or from your Social Worker (if you have one), we will contact you to arrange a convenient time to visit you. You may choose to have a family member, friend or advocate with you to assist you when we visit.

We will carry out a care needs assessment in conjunction with you and your family. We also carry out a number of risk assessments to ensure your, and the care workers health and safety. The risk assessments may identify risks that will need to be minimised to ensure your visits can be carried out in a safe manner. With your consent we will request some personal details including GP or hospital information and your NHS number. This will give us access to your NHS health records.

A personal support plan will be drawn up to reflect the way you have chosen your care and support to be carried out. It will also identify the outcomes you have chosen to achieve.

Copies of the documents within this file - your care needs assessment, risk assessments and support plan, will be stored electronically on a password protected database residing on our computer system. You are welcome to view the information concerning you at any time. Please refer to our Privacy Policy within this file to see how and why we store your personal data.

If you wish, during the initial assessment the assessor will go through this service user guide with you.

SERVICE USER GUIDE

Your service user guide will be stored electronically on a password protected database residing on our computer system but will be accessible to you and your family by sending a request via the method stated in the documentation left with you.

We will select a suitable care worker or care workers to meet your assessed needs and choices.

Once care commences, we hope that you will build a relationship of trust with your care worker, but if at any time you are dissatisfied with your care provision please contact the relevant Prime Care Support office. Remember we are a gender neutral organisation and therefore cannot discriminate against the gender of our staff. This means you may receive visits from both male and female care staff.

When it is convenient for you, there will be an annual visit by an assessor at a prearranged time and date to review your outcomes and update where necessary the support that we provide for you. Of course if your wellbeing changes and you require more or less support, a review will be arranged to meet your needs. The review also provides you with the opportunity for you to provide feedback on the service you receive. This will also be supplemented by telephone reviews.

You will also receive an annual survey form to complete, which is part of our quality process. This can be completed and returned anonymously if you prefer to do so. This allows us to monitor the quality of our services and make any improvements if they are required.

YOUR CARE WORKERS

Applicants are put through our vigorous recruitment process, comprising of an interview, two references and an enhanced Criminal Records check. Only applicants who have passed each stage of the process successfully will be employed.

New employees attend a classroom based and online induction training course which covers many different subjects including subjects such as Moving and Handling, Infection Control, First Aid, Food Hygiene, Medication, Child Protection and Safeguarding of Vulnerable Adults. Further additional training is provided on a range of subjects.

After the classroom induction, care workers shadow an experienced care worker in the community for a period of time. You may occasionally have additional carers attend your visit whilst they are completing this training and they are 'signed off', by an assessor when they are deemed to be competent. Specific training courses are available to staff working with service user groups who may have specialised needs and individual training sessions with certain service users is sometimes necessary.

Care workers are issued with identification badges which they should carry at all times. These badges have a photo of the care worker on it and contact numbers of your local office. Care workers may also wear an easily identifiable blue or white uniform which should be worn at certain times. Please do not let anyone into your home who does not have the appropriate identification.

Care workers carry disposable personal protective equipment (PPE) which they will use for certain care tasks. This is standard practice and a precautionary measure for our staff to reduce infection risks.

SERVICE USER GUIDE

Care workers will log in and out of your house by scanning the QR code in your documentation or using your telephone. It would be very helpful if we have use of your wifi (if you have it) but it is not essential. The calls are free and let us know in the office that your care worker has arrived safely and is staying the appropriate amount of time. On rare occasions, they may ask you to sign a timesheet if there is a problem with the system.

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR CARE WORKERS

- Care workers will behave in such a way as to promote and safeguard the service user's well-being and safety.
- Care workers will act in a professional manner with honesty and integrity and will respect the service user's property and home.
- Care workers will not bring unauthorised people or pets into the service user's home.
- Care workers are not permitted to accept gifts from service users or their friends or relatives. In exceptional circumstances, agreement may be sought from the local office manager for the acceptance of a small low value token of appreciation such as chocolates.
- Care workers or members of their families are prohibited from acting as witnesses or signatories to wills or any other legal document. Please do not leave any items or money to the care worker (or any other person employed by us) in your will.
- Care workers are not permitted to lend to or borrow anything from a service user. They are also forbidden from buying or selling anything to a service user, which includes agency or catalogue shopping. Participating in gambling syndicates such as lotteries are also prohibited.

TIME OF CALLS AND CONTINUITY OF CARE WORKERS

We will aspire to provide you with a care worker within 30 minutes either side of the time that has been requested for your visit/visits. Please bear in mind that the allocated time given to each service user, may occasionally run later to do heavy traffic conditions, staff sickness or unforeseen circumstances outside of our control.

We will try to provide you with a regular care worker/s for the majority of your care package. If your regular care worker is absent through either sickness or holiday, we will endeavour to provide you with another suitable care worker and preferably one who has visited you before.

We shall try to keep the number of care workers to a minimum. However over weekends and holiday periods this may be more difficult to achieve.

Our priority is always to cover your care requirements with a care worker who has skills and abilities to meet your needs. Please note, as part of our diversity policy we cannot specify the gender of your care worker.

TELEPHONES/CALL MONITORING SYSTEM

Care workers are not permitted to use your telephone for their own personal use, except for logging in and out of the monitoring system, calling the office on your behalf or emergency services. This call monitoring system is a free service and ensures compliance with our contracts with the local council. Care workers should not be taking personal calls on their mobile phones whilst in your house except in emergency situations. Please note that our digital care management system requires the care worker to spend some time updating the system from their phone. This is a necessary part of their routine.

KEY HOLDING AND ACCESS

Our company policy states that care workers are forbidden to hold keys. Access arrangements will be discussed at the initial visit and alternative arrangements discussed to 'key holding' for example the installation of a key safe.

If we are unable to gain access to your home at the time that has been arranged, we will contact the person named as your emergency contact number. If we are unable to speak to your emergency contact person, we will contact your social worker or suitable representative (such as Social Services or the Police) to ensure that no harm has come to you.

Do not hide keys near your home as thieves are adept at finding the most secret of hiding places.

SMOKING AND ALCOHOL AT WORK

Our care workers are NOT allowed to smoke in your home. Please do not allow any of your care workers to smoke in your home. Service users must refrain from smoking in front of care workers while they carry out your visits.

As you would expect, care workers are not allowed to consume alcohol during working hours.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Care workers must abide and adhere to the company's Confidentiality Policy. This policy protects you and your family from divulgence of anything heard, seen or read about you in their work situation.

Sometimes care workers are legally obliged to pass on certain information on a need to know basis where your or a care worker's health and well-being is at risk. If a third party does need to be contacted on your behalf, we will seek to ask your permission to do so except where responding to an emergency.

DATA PROTECTION AND ACCESS TO RECORDS

You are entitled to have access to your records kept in the Prime Care Support office under the Data Protection Act of 1998. This act prohibits us from disclosing information from your personal file to unauthorised persons.

Should you require access to the information on your file please contact the office in writing with your request.

Please refer to our Privacy Policy in this file to see how and why we store your personal data.

SERVICE USER GUIDE

INSURANCE

Prime Care Support holds full employers and public liability insurances as required by law. It is the service user's responsibility however to ensure that their private property is insured against damage and general wear and tear including damage caused by carers whilst undertaking normal duties. See the Terms and Conditions of Service for full details.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

Prime Care Support operates an equal opportunities policy which is adhered to in our recruitment procedures and the delivery of the service. This ensures that our work practices treat people fairly and equally regardless of their race, colour, nationality, religion, nationality, sexual orientation, marital status, disability or age.

Any cultural requirements will be discussed at the initial care needs assessment. Prime Care Support actively promotes working conditions and an environment that discourages harassment and intimidation both to its care workers and service users.

WITHDRAWAL OF CARE SERVICES

Rarely do we have cause to withdraw our care services from a service user. The conditions that result in this action being taken usually revolve around health and safety issues, unrealistic expectations of our service, or occasionally due to unacceptable behaviour by a service user or family member. Prime Care Support has a zero tolerance approach towards anyone who demonstrates abusive behaviour to a staff member. With self-funding service users, persistent non-payment of invoices may result in this action being taken.

No cancellation of service will be undertaken without firstly exploring every avenue to resolve the issue of causing concern.

HEALTH AND SAFETY ISSUES

Please remember that it is your responsibility to be at home when your care worker visits at the allocated times. If you are not responding and we haven't been informed, we will have to instigate an emergency procedure to check that you are well. This entails contacting your next of kin. If we receive no response we will contact emergency services.

At the initial visit, risk assessments will be carried out to identify any apparent risk to you or your care worker. Should any risks be identified either then or during your ongoing care, the issues will be discussed and a solution identified. Service users are requested to inform Prime Care Support office if any risk should come to their attention which could affect themselves or their care worker's health and safety. Care workers can refuse to carry out tasks where they consider that they or a service user's health and safety may be compromised.

If a care worker suspects that a service user has suffered harm, abuse or injury from any source, they are required to report the incident immediately to a member of the management team at the office. Care workers are trained to recognise differing types and causes of abuse.

SERVICE USER GUIDE

Care workers should also report any incidents or bad practice by another member of staff which could affect either service user, care worker or bring the company reputation into disrepute.

MOVING AND HANDLING POLICY (SUMMARY)

Prime Care is committed to reducing risks during manual handling operations and fully complying with current legislation in accordance with Manual Handling Operations Act (1992).

A risk assessment will be completed by an assessor at commencement of service.

It is company policy to avoid manual handling and wherever possible use mechanical hoists and equipment. Where this is not possible, we will use accepted moving aids. Where the need for the manual handling of people by care workers cannot be avoided, Prime Care Support shall take the appropriate measures and use the correct means or provide care workers with such means in order to reduce the risks involved.

If two care workers are assigned to complete a task it is important that no one care worker attempts to carry out a moving and handling task independently. If one care worker is running late due to unforeseen circumstances, their colleague may assist in the preparation of their duties but MUST NOT commence the moving and handling procedure until their colleague arrives.

If a service user's mobility deteriorates, an updated moving and handling risk assessment must be undertaken.

Prime Care Support considers reviews and feedback to be an essential part of the service user's care. Whilst formal reviews are required at prescribed intervals, we encourage staff to carry out reviews on an ongoing basis.

HANDLING SERVICE USER'S FINANCES

It is STRICTLY FORBIDDEN for care workers to accept or handle ANY money from a service user without being part of an agreed support plan.

We will aspire to handle service user's money, cheques and other financial matters with care, honesty and integrity at all times.

On no account should the service user's P.I.N. be passed to a care worker.

Any problems relating to your finances must be reported immediately to the Manager at the relevant Prime Care Support branch.

The Accounts department invoices self funding service users on a four weekly basis. Care workers must not accept any cash or cheques from service users on behalf of the Company, except with the express permission of management. Care workers must on no account use store loyalty cards for their own benefit. Failure to observe this rule will result in strict disciplinary action.

Care workers should only become involved in service user finances or handle money as part of an agreed support plan.

SERVICE USER GUIDE

COLLECTION OF PENSIONS

This can only be done as part of a signed agreed support plan.

The Company discourages care workers from carrying and managing large sums of money, particularly for pension of more than one week.

A record should be maintained of all transactions including receipts.

SAFE GUARDING SERVICE USER'S PROPERTY

Whilst performing their duties, care workers must be respectful of their property at all times. If required to clean or move valuable items, ensure that the service user is aware and has given their permission to do so. Care workers must not handle cash belonging to the service user without specifically being requested to do so, as part of their agreed support plan.

SERVICE USER GUIDE

OUR COMMITMENT

Prime Care Support is committed to the provision of quality care services and this is instilled in staff via our quality assurance systems.

These systems cover the following areas:

- Recruitment of staff.
- Training of staff.
- Management of staff.
- Delivery of service.
- Monitoring of the service.
- Auditing of the service.
- Continuous improvement of service delivery.

We monitor the service by utilising the following methods:

Regular communication

The office team is in regular communication with service users, care workers, relatives, care managers, district nurses and advocates. This allows any issues/concerns to be addressed in a timely manner.

Service user reviews

These are carried out as a minimum annually but are often carried out more frequently if the need arises. This provides the service user with the opportunity to have a face-to-face review and discuss their support plan and if the service is meeting their expectations/outcomes.

Care worker supervision

Unannounced spot checks are carried out on care workers working in the community. Regular supervision and annual appraisals are also undertaken.

Complaints/Compliments

As part of our quality assurance systems we have a standard complaint, comment and compliments form that is completed by office staff. We keep a record of complaints and how they have been addressed.

Annual quality survey

Our annual quality survey identifies areas for improvement in our service delivery and provides service users with the opportunity to make suggestions and comments. Each year an action plan is created from the results of the survey to help improve our quality.

Continuous improvement of service delivery

Our quality assurance systems identify areas of good practice and highlight the areas that need to be improved upon. They assist us with understanding the needs of the people or organisations that we serve, ensuring we meet their defined outcomes. The processes allow us to collect and analyse data, facilitating effective decision making and improvements.

COMMENTS AND COMPLAINTS POLICY AND PROCEDURE

This is an 'easy to read' summary of our policy. If you require further information, please ask for our complete Customer Complaints Procedure.

Our aim:

Prime Care Support is committed to delivering quality services and working in an open and accountable way that builds the trust and respect of all our stakeholders.

One of the ways in which we can continue to improve our service is by listening and responding to the views of our customers and stakeholders and in particular by responding to complaints and putting mistakes right.

Therefore we ensure that:

- Making a complaint is as easy as possible.
- We treat complaints as clear expressions of dissatisfaction with our services which call for an immediate response.
- We deal with them promptly, politely and always in a confidential manner.
- We respond in the right way – for example, with an explanation, or apology where we have got things wrong, or information on any action we have taken etc.
- We learn from complaints and use them to improve our services. We review our complaints policy and procedure annually.

We recognise that many concerns will be raised informally, and dealt with quickly.

We endeavor to:

- Resolve informal concerns quickly.
- Liaise with an advocate, family member, friend or neighbour in relation to the concern.
- Keep matters low key.

An informal approach to a complaint may be appropriate. If concerns cannot be satisfactorily resolved informally, then the formal complaints procedure should be followed.

Formal Complaints

The formal complaints procedure is intended to ensure that all complaints are handled fairly, consistently and wherever possible resolved to the complainant's satisfaction.

Prime Care Support's responsibility will be:

- Acknowledge the formal complaint in writing.
- Respond within a stated period of time.
- Deal reasonably and sensitively with the complaint.
- Take action where appropriate.

A complainant's responsibility is to:

SERVICE USER GUIDE

- Raise concerns promptly and directly to the registered manager of the branch.
- Explain the problem as clearly and as fully as possible, including any action taken to date.
- Allow Prime Care Support a reasonable time to deal with the matter.
- Recognise that some circumstances may be beyond Prime Care Support's control.

Responsibility for Action: All employees of Prime Care Support.

Confidentiality

Except in exceptional circumstances, every attempt will be made to ensure that both the complainant and Prime Care Support maintain confidentiality. However, the circumstances giving rise to the complaint may be such that it is not possible to maintain confidentiality. Should this be the case, the situation will be explained to the complainant.

Monitoring and Reporting

Prime Care Support monitors all concerns and complaints. Reports of concerns and complaints are made available to Social Services and The Care Quality Commission.

FORMAL COMPLAINTS PROCEDURE STAGES

Stage 1

In the first instance, if you are unable to resolve the issue informally, you should write or email the registered manager of the branch you receive your service from so they have a chance to put things right. In your letter, you should set out the details of your complaint, the consequences for you as a result, and the remedy you are seeking.

You can expect your complaint to be acknowledged within 5 working days of receipt. You should get a response and an explanation within 28 days of receipt.

Stage 2

If you are not satisfied with Prime Care Support's response to the complaint then you can contact the relevant Social Services Department, the CQC or LGO, details of which are on the next page.
